

BookShout Direct is the most elegant eBook platform that allows retailers, authors, and publishers to sell eBooks directly, increasing revenue and capturing user data.

1. Sell eBooks on your own site.
2. Increase your revenue.
3. Capture reader information and data.
4. Build an audience and re-market to them.
5. Bundle eBooks with other products.

With the BookShout Direct program, partners can sell millions of potential eBooks from thousands of publishing partners, all from their own website. Using the BookShout API and their own shopping cart, retailers can add eBooks to their product list, handle the transaction and capture reading data. Users are automatically signed in via the purchase process for a true “one click” buying and reading experience, allowing them to start reading on BookShout’s top-rated app for iOS, Android, and Kindle Fire HD, or industry-leading web reader.

Key Features and Highlights:
